Staff: Ailey Kato (786-7434)

Background: In 2014 the United States Government Accountability Office (GAO) published a report titled "Federal Agencies Can Better Support State Efforts to Prevent and Respond to Sexual Abuse by School Personnel." The report recommended that the United States Department of Education collaborate with the United States Departments of Health and Human Services and Justice to compile and disseminate information to states; identify a way to track the prevalence of sexual abuse; and clarify and disseminate information on how Title IX applies to personnel-to-student sexual abuse in the K–12 setting. Since the report, the Department of Education has implemented the recommendation to clarify and disseminate information on how Title IX applies to personnel-to-student sexual abuse in the K–12 setting.

Summary of Bill: A memorial must be sent to the President of the United States, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Senate and House of Representatives, Secretary of the Department of Education, Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, United States Attorney General, and the United States GAO.

The memorial asks Congress, the President, and the departments of Education, Health and Human Services, and Justice to take action to support and implement the recommendations of the GAO to address personnel-to-student sexual abuse and to continue to address peer-to-peer sexual abuse.
